

Kingdom

Pete Murray

I sit alone and I wonder why
You would want to go and leave this day
I understand your time has come to fly
And one day we all find our way

Well I'm two miles from home
Sitting all alone
And I still hear your voice call my name
Well I'm broken down and bold
You've filled my love with gold
And I still have to wait to play your game

While I'm waiting for your love
Let me be your stars above
With your world in both my arms
We'll stay forever young
As one love
As one love

Time has gone and I still know that I'm Hanging out to see you smile again
These empty day's feel like their killing me
But I know happiness is on the mend

Well I'm two miles from home
Sitting all alone
And I still hear your voice call my name
Well I'm broken down and bold
You've filled my love with gold
And I still have to wait to play your game

While I'm waiting for your love
Let me be your stars above
With your world in both my arms
We'll stay forever young
As one love
As one love

While I'm waiting for your love
Let me be your stars above
With your world in both my arms
We'll stay forever young

While I'm waiting for your love
Let me be your stars above
With your world in both my arms
We'll stay forever young
As one love
As one love
As one love
As one love
