Thought I Was

Pete Murray

I was moving forward
I was on my way
Brand new horizons
A new start, a new day

Thought I was
Changing all of my ways

Driving on the highway
Too scared to turn
I knew I had to leave you
Before I got burned

Thought I was
Changing all of my ways

But I'm falling backwards
On my way to you
Testing all my patience
To keep my hands off you

But I stand in line for your love
And I'm buying time for your love
And you're being so kind, growing on my mind
When I leave there's no sign of your love

I was moving forward
I was on my way
Brand new horizons
A new start, a new day

Thought I was
Changing all of my ways

But I'm falling backwards
On my way to you
Testing all my patience
To keep my hands off you

But I stand in line for your love
And I'm buying time for your love
And you're being so kind, growing on my mind
When I leave there's no sign of your love

But I'm falling backwards
On my way to you
Testing all my patience
To keep my hands off you

But I stand in line for your love
And I'm buying time for your love
And you're being so kind, growing on my mind
When I leave there's no sign of your love
