Pete Yorn

Time flew away,
But something won't forgive it all,
Days and weeks,
Let's start from the beginning of a life.

She called today,
Pretending not to care at all,
For days and weeks,
Now he's hanging from the ceiling,
What a life,
Oh what a life,
Was it a life?

Is something wrong with me?
I show you things you've never seen.
Is something wrong with me?
I show you things that you've only dreamed of.

I'm wide awake,
I'll drop you off for saying that,
For days and two weeks,
It was you who was defending such a lie,
Oh what a lie,
Was it a lie?

Is something wrong with me?
I show you things you've never seen.
Is something wrong with me?
I show you things that you've only dreamed of.
You never change, you never change.

Is something wrong with me?
I've shown you things you've never seen.
Is something wrong with me?
I've shown you things you've never seen.

Is something wrong with me?
I've shown you things you've never seen.
Is something wrong with me?
I've shown you things that you've only dreamed up.
You never change,
Something won't forgive it all
