Still Getting Over You

Peter Cetera

Since you went away
Can't face the day
Just can't face it on my own
Try to be strong, try to carry on
With a broken heart in an empty home

Lying awake half the night without sleeping Hopelessly thinking of you Here in my heart I have to admit it's true I'm still getting over you

I begged you not to leave I asked you not to run away Oh but you wouldn't listen I couldn't change your mind

So you left me here behind
Oh how I miss your touch
And your tender kissing
Lying awake half the night without sleeping

Hopelessly thinking of you Deep down inside I hate to admit it's true But I'm still getting over you

Lying awake half the night without sleeping Hopelessly thinking of you Here in my heart I have to admit it's true There's nothing I can do I'm still getting over you
