

Who's Been Having You Over

Peter Doherty

It's more or less that time, is it?
To revisit the how, the why, the what, wheres and when
And if you're still inclined to give it credence
Or jib it on as a conspiracy then

You're so rock 'n' roll
My, you're so rock 'n' roll
Oh but the rhyme that it took
To fill the right hook
You need a miracle
A crow bar and a miracle

Who's been having you over?
Yeah, who's been tucking you up?
Shaking you down?
Who's been having you over?
The world once was flat, the world got round

Made the maid a fresh spring bonnet
He flicked ash on it
Slipped down legs akimbo into the grave
Spat out a hex on it
Effects all on it
Stanley on the rebound at the Jesus save
Oh, that's so nonsensical
So rock and roll

Oh, the D.A ran checks on it
Found a sulphur speck on it
And now you need an alibi
The best that money can buy

And who's been having you over?
And who's been tucking you up?
Fucking you round?
Who's been having you over?
Well, you're free to go, don't leave town

So rock and roll
So rock and roll
So rock and roll

You'll need a miracle
Another fucking miracle

Who's been having you over?
Who's been tucking you up?
Shaking you down
Who's been having you over? Yeah
Shaking you down
Who's been having you over?
Who's been tucking you up?
Shaking you down
Who's been having you over?
Word gets back, word gets round
