

Hold On

Peter Furler

You never thought you would get to a place
Where your life could go from carefree
To suddenly aching, beautiful to breaking
Now you crawl through the smoke and haze
Fighting just to find some daylight to see the sun
And then catch your breath again

There's a whisper in the chaos
And it's calling out your name

Just believe, I know you're gonna make it
Don't let go when the ground beneath you is shaking
Through the good times and the bad times
And the things you can't control, you gotta hold on

There are days when the weight of the world
Is enough to make you think
That you're forgotten, you're not forgotten
Waiting there for this moment to pass
Looking up and praying
For some hope tonight, just to feel alive

Take the beauty from the ashes
Now it's time to rise again

Just believe, I know you're gonna make it
Don't let go when the ground beneath you is shaking
Through the good times and the bad times
And the things you can't control, you gotta hold on

If you feel you're at the end
And the light is fading out
The walls are caving in
Remember deep inside of you
There a hope beyond the fight
There's a faith to pull you through

Just believe, I know you're gonna make it
Don't let go

Oh, just believe, I know you're gonna make it
Don't let go when the ground beneath you is shaking
Through the good times and the bad times
And the things you can't control, you gotta hold on

You gotta hold on
You gotta hold on
You gotta hold on
You gotta hold on
