

Whirlpool

Peter McPoland

Let me circle down the drain
Whirlpool baby, big, big day
Rotten pip scrapes my face
And I, I let it spit me out into machines
Split me up piece by piece
All there was left of me just leaves

Trickle out into the street
Big bright sun come gobble me
Burn alive, silently scream
Burn alive, silently
Scream

Silently scream
Silently scream
Silently scream
Silently

Big black cloud is cracking up
Shoulder to shoulder, dust to dust
I had told you, you were loved
And I, I'm in it
Falling down, I'm terrified
Crying babies wondering why
I tell them about your eyes and I
I see ya

Sleeping cozy in our bed
Window open, wet cement
I'm all wondering how you slept
And it hits me

Windowsill, break me up
If I only could just wake you
Fingers in against my thumb
Trace your hair and kiss you

I don't wanna fall in love, oh baby
I could never fall in love, oh baby
I could never fall in love without you
I don't wanna fall in love, oh baby (I gave you the smell of the rain)
I could never fall in love, oh baby (I gave you the smell of the rain)
I could never fall in love without you (I gave you the smell of the rain)
I don't wanna fall in love, oh baby (I gave you the smell of the rain)
I could never fall in love, oh baby (I gave you the smell of the rain)
I could never fall in love without you (I gave you the smell of the rain)

I gave you the smell of the rain
Silently scream (silently scream)
Silently scream (silently scream)
I gave you the smell of the rain
