

The Same Chords

Petey USA

All my favorite songs use the same chords
In different order so you're thinking that I'm playing something different
All my favorite songs use the same chords
Part of life is tricking people that you're really good at something

And lately I've been scared to go to work
There ain't nothing that's more dangerous than a man losing control
You try to tell them that it's job is not his worth
That being a great dad is cooler than running a hedge fund

Here's the sound of your good buddy fucking up
Said it's hard to be productive without poison in your gut
You've got to call once a week to say what's up
Cause there ain't nothing more important than your checking up on buds
I said there's nothing more important than your checking up on buds
Cause there ain't nothing more important than your checking up on buds
I said there's nothing more important than your checking up on buds
Cause there ain't nothing more important than your checking up on buds
I said there's nothing more important than your checking up on buds
Cause there ain't nothing more important than your checking up on buds
I said there's nothing more important than your checking up on buds
I said there's-
