

Wake Up

Petit Biscuit

Feels like they come and go
You know I'm here to stay
Lifetime to live but I just wanna push away
What if you said the words
You really meant to say
That's wishful thinking

So you gotta wake up
Acting like it's all new when you know it
Couldn't give another fuck about it
You stole my soul so long

(So long, so long)
(Talk to me, talk to me, talk to me)
(Talk to me, talk to me, talk to me)

(So long, so long)
(Talk to me, talk to me, talk to me)
(Talk to me, talk to me, talk to me)

When it's dark and I'm alone
And drift away
I reminisce because you wanna fuck and play
You left a mark alone without a purpose
When I needed silence
All I heard was sirens
Stressin' about the feelings that you left alone
Like it's all that you wanted
But you'll think of something soon enough
Quit acting like it's over

So you gotta wake up
Acting like it's all new when you know it
Couldn't give another fuck about it
You stole my soul so long
