

Without You

Petit Biscuit

I try to redirect my focus
To keep you off my mind
Somehow in everything I notice
A little bit of you there left behind

It's burning now
Remember how you told me
It's time I find out

Who would I be without you?
Can't figure out what would I do?
I hate this but I have to
No more bluffing
Here goes nothing

Who would I be without you?
Without you
Without you
Without you
Who would I be without you?
Without you

I'm alright now
When I'm home and then I'm reaching out
In the morning feeling six feet down
Trying to hold on

Who would I be without you?
Can't figure out what would I do?
I hate this but I have to
No more bluffing
Here goes nothing

Who would I be without you?
Without you
Without you
Without you
Who would I be without you?
Without you
Who would I be without you?

Who would I be without you?
