Phantom Planet

drink
until you forget taste the fate of the rest won't you have one more glass powered by scotch alone on the yacht while the kids run amok in the house a bourbon and coke on a table of oak as the boys lie awake in their beds remember what was sit back and enjoy the buzz as your cells melt way turn off the tv take a load off your feet as that same old great feeling kicks in (same old feeling kicks in)
