

Be Just Fine

Phantoms

You said you didn't want it
But you took it anyway
You said you're leaving early
But it's getting kinda late

Your heart's beating in a hurry
And you're talking kinda strange
Didn't even wanna party
But said, "Fuck it, it's all the same"

Ooh, where we going now? Where we going now?
Ooh, never coming down, never coming down

My mind starts rolling like the waves in the dark
A few more hours and we will be just fine
I don't need to panic, I got you by my side
A few more hours and we will be alright
My mind starts rolling like the waves in the dark
A few more hours and we will be just fine
I don't need to panic, I got you by my side
A few more hours and we will be alright

A few more hours and we will be just fine
A few more hours and we will be just fine

Am I hearing double?
I can't make out what you're tryna say
I don't know about this feelin'
But the music just continues to play

My caution is exhausted
But the scenery continues to change
But disappearing's not an option
And the time keeps on tickin' away, away

Ooh, where we going now? Where we going now?
Ooh, never coming down, never coming down

My mind starts rolling like the waves in the dark
A few more hours and we will be just fine
I don't need to panic, I got you by my side
A few more hours and we will be alright

A few more hours and we will be just fine
A few more hours and we will be alright
A few more hours and we will be just fine
A few more hours and we will be alright
