

Double 6, 55, 44

Phenomena

waiting for the lightning strike waiting for the sky to fall cryin out all alone
nobody can hear you call running at the speed of light in the shadow of the gun standing in the danger zone no way out - no place to run

double six
double five
double four
don't you know
if you need help
call me

double six
double five
double four
don't you know
if you need help
call me

standing in the dead of night holding back all your fears wlking in the stormy rain no one sees the tears

running out of miracles still trying to believe drowning in the sea of love who're you trying to deceive?

double five
double four
don't you know
if you need help
call me

searching for a guiding light holding on to one last prayer when you feel all hope has gone call me - i'll be there

double five
double four
call me
