

Welcome To Hell

Phil Campbell And The Bastard Sons

I gave you less when you begged for more
I showed contempt, you chose to ignore
I never said I wanted you dead
But the thought entered my head
I swore I'd love you till the day I died
There's nothing left of me, I'm dead inside
So cut me open, I've got nothing to hide
You can keep whatever you find

You and I
Live inside your mind
And I just need a way out
You and I
Trapped inside your mind
And I can't find a way out

You wanted more than a piece of mind
So you ran and took a piece of mine
I bet the truth wasn't hard to find
How the hell could you be so blind
You're like the devil with a heart of stone
You must be petrified to be alone
Turn up the hate, yeah, why should we wait
Destiny is my favorite date

Was all of this just a distraction
Say things just for the reaction
I never said that I wanted you dead
But the thought entered my head

You and I
Live inside your mind
And I just need a way out
You and I
Trapped inside your mind
And I can't find a way out

Let's face it
Both your faces
Need defacing
Well let's face it
All your faces
Need erasing

You wanted more but I gave you less
You gave me hell instead of happiness
You needed more so I gave you less

You and I
Live inside your mind
And I just need a way out
You and I
Trapped inside your mind
And I can't find [?]
You and I
Live inside your mind
And I just need a way out

You and I
Are trapped inside your mind
And I can't pull the trigger on you
