I remember the night you weren't at home (had to work late is what I heard)
That's what you said
I can never forget the way it felt,
You needed some time to work it out,
That's what you said
And now I feel a fool.

'Cos late at night I call your name, I'm wondering what for, 'cos I've seen those other guys Sniffin' around your door.

Whatever happened to the words
'Lovers for all eternity?'
That's what you said,
I was your rome, you were my Juliet,
Eternally
That's what you said
And now I feel a fool.

'Cos late at night I hear your voice Calling out my name, Oh I know it's just a dream But every night's the same.

I carried a torch for you, through the thick and thin You know it don't seem right that I won't see you again No no

Late at night I call your name, I'm wondering what for, 'cos I keep seeing those other guys Sniffin' around your door.

I carried a torch for you through the wind and rain I'll never forget you, but I won't see you again $\mbox{No no}$

I thought your friends all liked me
I thought I fitted in just right,
That's what you said.
Soon I'll be gone and you'll be free,
You can go find the things that you want.
That's what you said
And I won't feel a fool

'cos late at night I still call your name,
I'm wondering what for,
'cos I keep seeing those other guys
Sniffin' around your door.

What for?
