

Sing Along With Me

Phil Ochs

When times are bad and you're feeling sad Got more troubles than you've ever had There's one sure way to make you feel glad the whole world will come to you here's all you gotta do: just walk right through that door.
Sing a song when things go wrong
Of a tune you'll be smiling soon Find yourself a melody, sing along with me.

When troubles are out and you're feeling down
You can chase those troubles away send your blues back to yesterday
It doesn't matter if you're rich or poor Walk right through that door.

And when your own true love is giving you pain makes you ride that lonesome train feel like you're going in sane whistle that true love from your mind leave her far behind.
