

Into The Light

Phil Stacey

Hide away, hide away
Don't hide behind your door
Run away, run away
You don't have to anymore

'Cause where you are
Is where I used to be
And I want for you
What has been done for me

If you just step out into the light
You'll find what you've been looking for
Step out and you will find
Love like you've never seen before

Reach out and take the hand
Of the God who understands your pain
And He loves you just the same
Step out into the light

All the gray, all the gray
Will melt into the sun
On the day, on the day
That you decide to come

'Cause where I am
Is where you're meant to be
And I want for you
What has been done for me

Please just step out into the light
You'll find what you've been looking for
Step out and you will find
Love like you've never seen before

Reach out and take the hand
Of the God who understands your pain
And He loves you just the same
Step out into the light

Know that you are loved
Oh, into the light
Please just look up
Don't walk away, come into the light
You are loved

Step out into the light
You'll find what you've been looking for
Step out and you will find
Love like you've never seen before

Step out into the light
You'll find what you've been looking for
Step out and you will find
Love like you've never seen before

Reach out and take the hand

Of the God who understands your pain
And He loves you just the same
Step out into the light, into the light
