Calm Before The Storm

Phillip Phillips

I used to think
We were enough
We could last forever
But now I've gone and messed it up
Are we just breaking
I'm tired of breaking

You used to laugh
Through all of the bad
We could take whatever
Now we get lost in what we have
I wanna get back there
Can we get back now

So, tell me that this isn't how it is
'Cause I can't take another day of it

Can we live inside the calm before the storm?
Before we're far too gone
Nothing's set in stone
Right now it's hard to take it

I know that some things never change
And you I can't replace
No, we can't we start again
Before the lines are drawn

We used to be
What everyone wanted to be
You'd light up the room
And I'd stare in disbelief
I wanna get back there
Can we get back there

'Cause I won't let this be the way it ends
No, I can't take another day of this

Can we live inside the calm before the storm?
Before we're far too gone
And nothing's set in stone
Right now it's hard to take it

I know that some things never change
And you I can't replace
No, we can't we start again
Before the lines are drawn

Can we live inside the calm before the storm?

Can we live inside the calm before the storm?
Before we're far too gone
And nothing's set in stone
Right now it's hard to take it

I know that some things never change
And you I can't replace

Before the lines are drawn

Can we live inside the calm before the storm?
