Strangers

Phillip Phillips

Funny when you first meet, everything seemed so wild
Learning all the new things, catching everything that stands ou t
The difference between my heart and what comes out of my mouth
It's something I don't know anything about

Don't you wish that we could be strangers?
That we could go backwards and meet all over again
Crazy how our time is an arrow, shooting us forward
I'd do it all over and over again

Just to be strangers
Just to be strangers

I can still see us, I can still see your face
I can draw a map from memory back to the day
The only thing I read about, it's here and where it's coming
It's all you, it's always you

Don't you wish that we could be strangers?
That we could go backwards and meet all over again
Crazy how our time is an arrow, shooting us forward
I'd do it all over and over again

Just to be strangers
Just to be strangers

And when the world ends, I swear we'll keep letters
So let's never worry about where the time went

Don't you wish that we could be strangers?
Don't you wish that we could be strangers?

Don't you wish that we could be strangers?
That we could go backwards and meet all over again
Crazy how our time is an arrow, shooting us forward
I'd do it all over and over again

Just to be strangers
Just to be strangers
Just to be strangers
