

I Saw the Bombs Fall

Phinehas

I awoke from a nightmare
In a fit consciousness now
Cold sweat and colder air
Blinding flashes cast a shadow
Before the sound hit the square
The end of it all

They kept it from your TV screens; A sleight of hand
I dreamt of a lifeless rock; A cratered wasteland

It's not just an alternate reality
I saw the bombs fall
It's not just overseas
I saw the bombs fall

Are we really that far away?
Am I naive to think
That this is only a dream?
Is it really too hard to recall what brought the end of it all?
We lost our chance to rewrite history
Rewrite history

A path void of heroes
The abysmal waste of what could have been
Discerning only ones and zeros
There's no space between for them

Peel back what covers your ears
Hear that a nation is crying out for mercy (mercy)
Before it's too late for them to raise the sound
Mercy
Before it's too late for them
Mercy

Are we really that far away?
Am I naive to think
That this is only a dream?
Is it really too hard to recall what brought the end of it all?
We lost our chance
We lost our chance to rewrite history

Between the bodies in trenches and the blustery sky
It's not just overseas; I saw the bombs fall
I saw the bombs fall
