

Good Times Bad Times

Phish

T's time I sling the baskets off this overburdened horse
Sink my toes into the ground and set a different course
'Cause if I were here and you were there
I'd meet you in between
And not until my dying day, confess what I have seen