

The Rascal

Phlake

Hey, hey
The pity won't last any longer
Hey, hey
Hey, hey
I've been around to know
Hey, hey, hey, hey

Ties will be broken
Why do we pretend that we don't know
When, when it's best to let go?
Oh, maybe time should have solved this
I will be the one to let you know
Oh, today's my day to fall in

Seven nights a week
I'm driving in my sleep
Answer me, I'm calling
Calling the rascal
As far as I can see
I'm on a one-way street
Answer me, I'm calling
I'm calling the rascal

Hey, hey
A minute in a mask is an art form
Hey, hey
Hey, hey
But it really won't last here anymore
Hey, hey
Hey, hey

Ties will be broken
Why do we pretend that we don't know
When, when it's best to let go?
Oh, maybe time should have solved this
I will be the one to let you know
Oh, today's my day to fall in

Seven nights a week
I'm driving in my sleep
Answer me, I'm calling
Calling the rascal
As far as I can see
I'm on a one-way street
Answer me, I'm calling
I'm calling the rascal

Down the road, there's a moment I own
Made to make belief
Blown away to make sorrow, oh
And down the road, there's a way to let go
But I'm waiting on
On myself to make sure I'm not ending up alone

Seven nights a week
I'm driving in my sleep
Answer me, I'm calling

Calling the rascal
As far as I can see, my dear
Answer me, I'm calling
I'm calling the rascal

Leave yourself, just leave yourself
Just leave yourself, just leave
Be yourself, just be yourself
Just be yourself, just be
Leave yourself, just be yourself
Just leave yourself, just be
Answer me, I'm calling
Calling the rascal
Calling the rascal
Leave yourself and be yourself
Leave yourself, just be
Answer me, I'm calling
Calling the rascal
