

Ring

Phoebe Ryan

You were walking in the park
I remember, last Sunday
You were wearing my old favorite Iron Maiden shirt
So happy in your arms
Yeah, she was looking perfect
Felt like someone stabbed me with an arrow through my heart

Some things never change
Is it too late now to say

No, don't you dare
Put a ring on her finger
It's a huge mistake choosing her
No, don't you dare
Put your lips up against hers
And say you don't want me anymore

And damn, it's so hard
When your life is like a movie
And you're just an extra watching her become the star
And maybe I'm dumb
But I always thought someday
We were gonna have each other 'til death do us part

Some things never change
Isn't life without me strange?

No, don't you dare
Put a ring on her finger
It's a huge mistake choosing her
No, don't you dare
Put your lips up against hers
And say you don't want me anymore

(No)

No, don't you dare (No)
No, don't you dare (No)
No, don't you dare (No)

Some things never change

No, don't you dare
Put a ring on her finger
It's a huge mistake choosing her
No, don't you dare
Put your lips up against hers
And say you don't want me anymore

(No)

No, don't you dare (No)
No, don't you dare (No)
Don't you dare, don't you dare
No, don't you dare (No)
Don't you dare, don't you dare

Some things never change
