

Into Flame

Phoenix Effect

I burn with these tears
They show me what I can't see
Hold on to these fears
That I have pinned down on me

These flick'ring confessions
They Speak in my stead
Your whis'prin emotions
Laid down on my bed
Don't turn this on me
It grows on us evenly

Into your flame, all for desire
In your name, no fear for the fire

It's sinking in now
'n pulling me under deep like drinking the draught that flows from the wound that weeps

My bleak imperfections
However misled
Call for an ovation
Not embers to tread
Beneath your touch
I'm taking the faithless leap

Into your flame, all for desire
In your name, no fear for the fire
Embracing the pain
Like loving a lie
Choosing my own demise
