

Stand Your Ground

Phoenix Effect

It means more than I can say
For a broken heart to have soul to lead the way
Oh man... I can feel emotions running deep... in my skin
But the ink will never testify shame

I guess that's what I'm trying to say
Every sunset hides a new beginning

When troubled clouds surround you
You need to stand your ground
You need to stand your ground

Got balls to play the game
Got a mind of my own, I ain't no slave
Oh man... I'm gonna ride the wave... ride to win
And every time I fall, I'll rise again

I guess that's what I'm trying to say
Every sunset hides a new beginning

When troubled clouds surround you
You need to stand your ground
You need to stand your ground
When the vultures gather around you
You need to stand your ground
You need to stand your ground

You'll need an army to break me
More than an earthquake to shake me
You'll need an army to break me
You'll need an army to break me

When troubled clouds surround you
You need to stand your ground
You need to stand your ground
When the vultures gather around you
You need to stand your ground
You need to stand your ground
When troubled clouds surround you
You need to stand your ground
You need to stand your ground

Just stand strong
Focus on the horizon

Stand your ground
