Cookie Crumble.

Phony Ppl

Yesterday's gone by
I procrastinate to cry
Askin' God why
I needed this to happen

What's said is said and done is done
I don't know when I'll see the sun
When drowning in life's deepest sea
My cookie crumble under me

That's just how my story goes
And I won't, won't look back
Won't look back
Won't look back
Won't look

I focused on the parts that died
But not the parts of me that survived
I have to learn new ways to fly
Why'd I need this to happen?

As I'm talkin' through the fiery flames
And tryna save what still remains
I'm drowning in life's deepest sea
My cookie crumble under me

That's just how my story goes
And I won't look back
Won't look back
Won't look back
Won't look
