

Breaking My Heart

Phora

She don't wanna be just homies
She says she wants to be my only one
She takes her time cause what we have is something

Now I might've earned it from me
Cause she wanna put us on the scene
Wanting everybody to know

It's never what it seems
It's harder once you bring this to light
It's never what it means
If I didn't come to make this alive

And now that when we try the rules, you breaking them all
I'm sick and tired of running around, you breaking my heart

Yeah, said I'm sick and tired of runing
Sick and tired of dealing with you and how you be fronting
See I'm, searching for something
Something you can't provide
Since you crossed the line, I'm getting mine
I'm sick and tired of nothing
See, I used to know girls just like you
Keyword; "used too"
From what I've learned, nice guys finish last Now she just in the past and I ain't like these other niggas just trynna get in your pants
I'd rather have a dope conversation and see hat your mind like
Nowadays girls are drama
I just keep my grid tight
And focus on that
See, I didn't notice all these feelings for you girl until you brought all e m back
With your fine ass
She says she wanna be the one for me
But what if there isn't a one for me
They say just wait til she comes for me
Shit, but what if she already came
That just means she already left, now I'm stuck in the rain

It's never what it seems
It's harder once you bring this to light
It's never what it means
If I didn't come to make this alive

And now that when we try the rules, you breaking them all
I'm sick and tired of running around, you breaking my heart

You're all that's in front of my eyes
You should know that I don't see nobody else
You say you wanna be my only
But tell me would be there for me
Would you be there for all my life

It's never what it seems
It's harder once you bring this to light
It's never what it means

If I didn't come to make this alive

And now that when we try the rules, you braking them all
I'm sick and tired of running around, you breaking my heart
