

By My Side

Phora

I don't understand
I try and I try
But you won't let me in

With gun in my hand
No, no

I feel alone through the night
I get lonely
I need you right by my side
I need you right here with me
I feel alone through the night
I get lonely
I need you right by my side
I need you right here with me

We're in the same game, just different levels
Same hell, got different devils
Rose from the concrete, I picked the petals
Prove me wrong, thought you were special

We fell apart, I take the blame
When we talk it don't feel the same
Burnt all the pictures of me and you
Now all I've got is this empty frame

Both of us come from a broken home
Tortured by feelings we couldn't show
Both of us know what it's like to have nothing
So both of us scared to end up alone

Thought you would be here through thick and thin
Of all of the places I've ever been
My favorite was next to you
Wanted the best for you
You gave me hope in this life of sin

I ain't never put another soul above you
Everybody else they would always judge you
After what you did I just couldn't trust you
Sad thing is I'm uh, fuck

I ain't never put another soul above you
Everybody else they would always judge you
After what you did I just couldn't trust you
Sad thing is I'm a always love you

I feel alone through the night
I get lonely
I need you right by my side
I need you right here with me
I feel alone through the night
I get lonely
I need you right by my side
I need you right here with me

I'm lost and confused but you don't understand

I try and I try but you won't let me in
My heart on my sleeve and this gun in my hand (no, no, no)

I'm lost and confused but you don't understand
I try and I try but you won't let me in
My heart on my sleeve and this gun in my hand (no, no, no)
