

Everything I Never Said

Phora

I've been wanting you from the start, from the start

Oh

Baby, I want you in my arms, in my arms

Oh

Yeah, look

I hope this song reaches you in time

I know I'm crazy, I crossed a line, yeah

Lately, I been seein' these signs

And they all point to you, my thoughts pressin' rewind

I been reminiscing 'bout you on the side of me

I know I'm destructive, I don't try to be

Maybe it's how I was raised, who I'm designed to be

Want you to know I'm writin' this as an apology

For every time I ever made you feel like you were less

Every time I ever made you think you were a mess

Every time I ever made you feel like any other girl was better

I just wanna let you know that you're best thing that ever could've happened to me

Used to be happy with me

And to this day, I thank God that you ran into me

These days, I let my feelings get the best of me

And I still think of you every second you're not next to me, I've been

I've been wanting you from the start, from the start

Oh

Baby, I want you in my arms, in my arms

Oh

Yeah, look

If I had another chance, I would love you right

Now I know that if you care, then you sacrifice

I was selfish with my ways, I was caught up in a phase

I was tryna numb this pain, I just couldn't fight

Thoughts spillin', heart killin', pain drillin'

Tried to stop, but without you, I'm not healin'

Wish I had you in my arms to make it up to you

But I guess I was never really enough for you

You know I had this dream that I was chasin'

Came this far from writin' songs in the basement

Moved to L.A., where the people were the fakest

And I ended up tradin' my happiness to be famous and

Now I'm here wishin' for you back home

You my spine, you the one, you my backbone

The only time I ever feel like myself and

The type love that's irreplaceable, you can't clone

I'd rather have you than a million friends

Rather have the key to your heart than to a Benz

I'd rather have the truth, I don't do pretend

If it's me and you, it's me and you until the end

Look, I'd rather have you than a million friends

Rather have the key to your heart than to a Benz

I'd rather have the truth, I don't do pretend

'Cause if it's me and you, it's me and you until the end

I've been wanting you from the start, from the start

Oh
Baby, I want you in my arms, in my arms
Oh