

Lost

Phora

Yeah

This might be the realest shit I ever wrote

Yeah, yeah

Like why the fuck I always feel alone?

I don't know why I always feel alone

Know you cried when I fuckin' tried

You up by my side, I was still alone

Sometimes I miss the way it was

Only okay when I'm off the drugs

I ain't been outside, I ain't seen the sun

I've been tryna stay away from everyone

We do not love when we need it most

Run from the truth 'til we see it close

I can never tell what's fake or real

Your love haunts me still like I'm seeing ghosts

I know the emptiness of feelin' numb inside

When your heart is broke and you're too numb to cry

So you turn to pills and I know the feeling

You don't wanna live so you'd rather die

But, none of us really wanna die alone

So many times you would cry alone

I can't say I don't think about you

But these feelings are easier to hide than show

Tell me what's love?

I don't get it still

I just need a place where you never feel

Need a place where pain don't exist

So I started asking God if heavens real

Yeah, I don't get it still

I just need a place where you never feel

Need a place where pain don't exist

So I started asking God if heavens real

Yeah, I don't get it still

I just need a place where you never feel

Need a place where pain don't exist

So I started asking God if heavens real
