

Set You Free

Phora

Yeah, I see all your make-up smears and your tears dried
I know that you're heart is broke, but you still try
The say, "The eyes are the window to the soul"
And if it's true, I can see the bruises that you never show, ye ah
I'm hoping she realizes she worth more
She lost, and she don't know what to search for Don't be scared of all the things that you can be You're trapped and I just wanna set you free
Yeah

I just wanna set you free
Yeah, I just wanna set you free, free
Yeah, I just wanna set you free
Yeah, I just wanna set you free, free

Yeah, yeah
That nigga ain't loving you how you should be loved
You searching for something, hoping it could be love
She tryin' to figure what's in his head
But if she focused on herself instead, maybe it would be love
But I don't blame her, cause he put her through it
He puts his hands on her, she hides her bruises
Yeah, she said she sick of living
Took his .45, and tried to pull the trigger but she couldn't do it
You fuck and you fight, you stay and you leave
But what's it take to make you stay here with me? (Uh)
I know you come with demons like the rest of us
Got all these thoughts inside, just hopin' they don't get the b est of us
Look, you runnin' to the ones that hurt you most You rather hurt than face this world alone, but
You know you have a home when you come back to me
Know you trapped and I just wan' set you free
Yeah

I just wanna set you free
Yeah, I just wanna set you free, free
Yeah, I just wanna set you free
Yeah, I just wanna set you free, free
