

Stay Beside Me

Phora

She say she never met nobody like me
And I believe her, I believe her
She told me, "Baby, please, just stay beside me"
So I won't leave her, I won't leave her
She say she never met nobody like me
And that's believable, more than likely
She asked me, "Baby, please, just stay beside me, beside me"

Yeah
Know it's been a while since someone held you down
Feel like you alone, parents not around
The world on your back, feel like a thousand pounds
You just need someone who can teach you how to wear your crown
Pretty eyes, pretty name, pretty smile, pretty face
Everybody thinks it's easy, they don't know what pretty takes Makeup cover up the scars, smile to fit in with the fakes
Know you got a heart of gold, nobody could take your place
But, you start to feel better again
Your ex mad, he don't want you to better than him
You and your ex bestfriend should've never been friend
She said she had you all the way, but she was never your twin
And you deserve better, know I got your back like no other man
Thirty-five roses, ten stacks with the rubberbands
Just to see you smile, other people just don't understand
I truthfully just wanna see you love again
Look, I just wanna take care of you
I know you had too many of 'em embarrass you
Your heart's cold, baby, I could your Theraflu
And all you ever needed was someone to love and cherish you like
I'll never question you, you God's blessing
We both loved the wrong one, it taught us hard lessons
You the type of girl that make a man stop stressin'
More life, more blessings, here's a song for you, my one and only

She say she never met nobody like me
And I believe her, I believe her
She told me, "Baby, please, just stay beside me"
So I won't leave her, I won't leave her
She say she never met nobody like me
And that's believable, more than likely
She asked me, "Baby, please, just stay beside me, beside me"

Yeah
You say you never had nobody by your side
I say no matter what we go through, I'm down to ride
You say I'm crazy for the feelings that I have
But I got visions about us, I got dreams to call to you mine
Look, I compliment you, you don't believe me when I say it
I say you beautiful and you tell me you hate it
'Cause you gave your heart to people and they played it
I'm writtin' love letters, you just ripplin' out the pages, damn
I tried tellin' you I'm different, tried to tell you that I'm here for you
I know havin' someone here it's kind of weird for you
I try to let you in my mind and prove I care for you
And when you down and feelin' out then I'll be there for you
But maybe it's the way you smile
Just to hear the way you say my name, I'd probably walk a million miles

I've been plannin' our forever for a while
And I already see you in that dress while you walkin' down the aisle, I mean
Yeah, hahaha

She say she never met nobody like me
And I believe her, I believe her
She told me, "Baby, please, just stay beside me"
So I won't leave her, I won't leave her
She say she never met nobody like me
And that's believable, more than likely
She asked me, "Baby, please, just stay beside me, beside me"
She say she never met nobody like me
