Beg

Phum Viphurit

As her words pull you down
Keep your head above the ground
It may bring you to your knees
Don't beg please

Ho, yes I walk alone
No I won't surrender to your throne
'Cause you don't pull me, no more
No more

Ho, in nights when I am cold
I'll always feel the warmth
Beneath my arms where you were
Once beside me

Ho-ho-ho, but that love is old and dying
Those tales you told were nothing more but lies

I beg you go away from me now

Ho-hoo ho-hooo-ho-hooo

Burn away the shadows of your shame
For now I see the flaws beside your name
Wo-hoo

Oh yes, I walk alone
No I won't surrender to your throne
'Cause you don't pull me no more
No more

But ho, in nights when I am cold
I'll always feel the warmth beneath my arms
Where you were once beside me
But then ho-ho-ho
But that love is o-old and dying
Those tales you've told were nothing more but lies

I beg you
I beg you

But heart
You don't know
Half the pain
I'm in

In nights when I am cold
I'll always feel the warmth beneath my arms
Where you were once beside me

But that love is old and dying
Those tales you've told were nothing more but lies

I beg you
I beg you
I beg you, go away
