

Was Yesterday Such A Long Time Ago

Phyllis Hyman

It was only yesterday when we were young
When the songs of love we written still were sung
Loathe the world we share was changing much too fast
Both of us were sure our love would last

And God only knows
Was yesterday really such a long time ago?
Please, tell me why it haunts me so
How could I let you go

But my mind keeps circling back
Each time I hear your name while all along
I'm wondering when we were cold
Wondering who's the blame
You opened up a world I'm always dreamed about
Magically, it came true
It all came true

Because I was with you

Every day I tell my self I'm better off
Hoping love will fade away like some old cough
Sure, there's lots of things a broken heart can take
Trouble is it doesn't cure the ache

And God only knows
Was yesterday really such a long, long time ago?
It's torture getting over you
What am I gonna do until tomorrow comes?
Until tomorrow comes
What am I gonna do
Oh, until tomorrow comes
Oo...oo...oo...oo...
Until tomorrow comes
I'm gonna wait for you, baby
Until tomorrow comes
