

Troublemaker

Picture This

I called her up she said that she couldn't talk
I waited 5 minutes then jumped in my car Sped down the highway where I thought that she was Found her in earrings I never saw before

But wait, she's in our diner and there's someone else beside her
And he's filling up her plate (no way)
And now she's crying and all I'm doing is trying not to punch him in his face (man, hey)
And I've got some stuff to do around town
But right now all of that stuff can fuckin wait

Here we go again, hands behind my back
And she gives me a million
Reasons why I should hate her
But I can't, cause she's my troublemaker
And we're stuck in a moment
Heart like a stolen car and I can't control it
I should really really hate her
But I can't, cause she's my troublemaker

When I got home she said I'm going to my friends
I waited 5 minutes then jumped in my Benz sped past the place that she said she was going
Found her in sunglasses that she got from him

But wait, she's in our diner and he's sitting there beside her
And he's filling up her plate (no way)
And now she's crying cause he's lying on the floor after I punched him in his face (man, hey)
And I've got some stuff to do around town
But right now all of that stuff can fuckin wait

Here we go again, hands behind my back
And she gives me a million
Reasons why I should hate her
But I can't, cause she's my troublemaker
And we're stuck in a moment
Heart like a stolen car and I can't control it
Man I should really hate her
But I can't, cause she's my troublemaker

She's my troublemaker
Really wanna hate her
She's my troublemaker

Hey I've got some stuff to do around town
But right now all of that stuff can fuckin wait
