

You & I

Picture This

My mind is hazy
Must've been that gin.
And I've been thinking lately
About packing it in.

But I've got a love
For things that hurt me.
Fit like a glove
Make me feel dirty.

I'm used to that smell
That lives in my nose.
Of drunken old men
Laughing at my clothes.

We're too big for this town.
We should really get out.
And I don't care where we go,
As long as I'm with you.

You don't need much money
All we'll spend is time.
Give your heart to me,
And I'll give you mine.

We need to get out,
And drink in other bars.
Learn to use your mouth
You told me from the start, yes you did.

And all we do is fight.
Would you fight by my side?
And I don't know how to say, thanks
So I hide and hide and hide.

We're too big for this town
We should really get out.
And I don't care where we go,
As long as I'm with you.

And all we do is hang out
In places we're not allowed.
Just to see the fire
In the other person's eyes.
In the other person's eyes.

In the other person's eyes
In the other person's eyes

We're too big for this town
We should really get out.
And I don't care where we go,
As long as I'm with you.
And all we do is hang out
In places we're not allowed.
Just to see the fire
In the other person's eyes.

I see it in yours,
Do you see it in mine?
Do you see it in mine?
Do you see it in mine?
Do you see it in mine?

We're too big for this town
We should really get out.
Just to see the fire
In the other person's eyes.
I see it in yours, do you see it in mine?
