

Girl Next Door

Pilot

Two separate people with their situation
So far yet near they try to hide emotion
Sometimes they meet by chance
And say they're just good friends
But I do believe we'll find the truth
If we take a chance and knock next door

He always makes out that he's got another
But she's so smart she always can discover
It's chance to make her see by using jealousy
But I do believe they'd be better off
If he'd take a chance and knock next door

When the going's rough
And you've had enough
When you feel you need some extra love
You've really got to show her
You've got to give her more
Love to the girl next door

He likes to let her think he's having good times
But on the other hand she has her sidelines
She knows his every move
Which means he'll only lose
But I do believe he can't ignore
His love for the girl next door

When the going's rough
And you've had enough
When you feel you need some extra love
You've really got to show her
You've got to give her more
Love to the girl next door

When the going's rough
And you've had enough
When you feel you need some extra love
You've really got to show her
You've got to give her more
Love to the girl next door
Love to the girl next door

La la la la la
La la la la la
La la la la la la la la la

You've really got to show her
You've got to give her more
Love to the girl next door

La la la la la
La la la la la
La la la la la la la la la
