

Living Your Life

Pink Turns Blue

For many moments I was
Part of your world
I met your friends
I shared their
Points
And I did listen to the stories I was told
Was getting close
Not near enough

I did try
To love your life
I did try

Was taking drugs, was having drinks for the pain
It still became a nightmare I couldn't, wouldn't take Avoiding your eyes and then avoiding our love
I had to find a way
To escape

I did try
To love your life
I did try

We wouldn't be happy just got silent again
Was hoping for change was hoping for more
Our troubles began when we started meeting again
And our life became a tale

I did try
To love your life
I did try
