

Blood

Pinkshift

Don't have the words because my language is dying out
She's watching me from far away
Don't want my spit to have blood in it anymore
Do you think that you can heal me?

There's blood in the water
There's blood in the trees
They're stealing what they can until we're dripping with disease
Let me feel the earth, breathe in the leaves
Let me feel the ocean, let her claim what she sees
Hey!
You
Can you

Magic elixir, hold my tongue while it's drying out
Make me invincible to harm's way
Dear angels watching, I need something worth fighting for
Do you think that you can heal me?

There's blood in the water
There's blood in the trees
They're stealing what they can until we're dripping with disease
Let me feel the Earth, breathe in the leaves
Let me feel the ocean, let her claim what she sees
'Cause I won't be here forever
The floods will purify my soul

Deep in the woods, where I am all alone
Nothing can hurt me here, where nature goes
Found a new world, you wanna call it home
Nothing can hurt me here, where I'm my own

There's blood in the water
There's blood in the trees
They're stealing what they can until we're dripping with disease
Let me feel the Earth, breathe in the leaves
Let me feel the ocean, let her claim what she sees
Do you hear me?
Hear the land sing?
Are you listening?
What do you feel? Can you taste it? Is it magic?
When it feels good, do you feel it like this?
Hey!

Can you heal me?

Do you, do you
Do you like the way you are?
I hope I, I hope I, I hope I didn't wait too long
Haven't thought about it in, oh, so long
Haven't thought about it in, oh, so long
Do you, do you
Do you like the way you are?
