

in a breath

Pinkshift

Don't touch me, I don't want to feel anymore
You'll break me I just want to be, let me be, let me be Once broken twice is hard to fix, you should know
Once broken it will never be a happy ending anymore

I really want a pretty face that isn't torn
I'm in this body, let me free, let me free, let me
Sometimes I dream a perfect dream where I return
Back to a place where I was born, in the garden of a soul

In the garden I was born

What is it like when you can sleep with no alarm
What would I be if I could lay down and rest my eyes
I wonder shyly how to breathe, cause I don't know
Nobody told me how to live here and die on my own
On my own

Don't leave me anymore
Don't haunt me in the door
Don't you worry anymore
I can't feel you anymore

My eyes don't open anymore

I've taken rest, so I won't bother you anymore
Don't want to live, don't want to die, anymore
