Pinkshift

Ooh, tell me to reach for the stars
And heaven will reach down to me, so graciously
For every memory
All I've wanted to see is you
When you've forgotten me, and my skin is so thin
That all I could ever want is everything
Within the earth, it is spoken to me
Constantly in whispers of the wind

They say
I love you and I always will
Yeah, they say
I love you and I always know

Oh, so intimately
How seasons change like rays of light
Oh, so gold and shimmering
It's our path, your energy, it chases me

And you say
I love you and I always will
Oh, I know you say
I love you and I always

I am only but a seed
I grow forever magnificently

In whispers of the wind
I love you and I always will
