Pissed Jeans

I slept for eight hours and woke up tired
Thought about my desires that i'm too nervous to try
I looked in the mirror, some blemishes i can't hide
I drank a cold glass of water but it didn't satisfy

Spent

I earned an extra hundred dollars
There's nothing i wanna buy
I could do twenty pushups if i was willing to try
So i went and got my car back
There's a new noise this time

I drank a cold glass of water but it didn't satisfy

Spent

And my sleeping clothes make it through the day
Sweatpants and a shirt in different shades of gray
I've spent like ten bucks on my lunch
Walk around like a bag looking for a punch
The weeks fly by and my only prize
Is slowly watching my waist increase in size
