

High Hopes

Pixie Lott

When the storm, hits me deep down to the bone
It'll wash away, all the struggle that I've known
When there's no shooting star, in the righteous sky
I don't stop looking up, 'til I see it shine

If you find me ten feet under water
On my wedding day left at the altar
I'll have high hopes
If you find me struck by bolts of lightning
On every cloud where there's no silver lining
I'll have high hopes
If I'm hung dry in the cold to dry
Drowning deep in the big blue tide
I'll have high hopes, high hopes

When my dreams, seem to haunt me in the night
It doesn't mean, I won't make the morning light
Don't need to see to believe, there's a path to paradise
Somewhere we'll make it there all in time

If you find me ten feet under water
On my wedding day left at the altar
I'll have high hopes
If you find me struck by bolts of lightning
On every cloud where there's no silver lining
I'll have high hopes
If I'm hung dry in the cold to dry
Drowning deep in the big blue tide
I'll have high hopes, high hopes

Sometimes when the rain falls down
It don't rain, it pours
Sometimes when the rain falls down
It don't rain, it pours
But when the sun comes out
And when it shines, it soars
But when the sun comes out
And oh, it soars

If you find me ten feet under water
On my wedding day left at the altar
I'll have high hopes
If you find me struck by bolts of lightning
On every cloud where there's no silver lining
I'll have high hopes
If I'm hung dry in the cold to dry
Drowning deep in the big blue tide
I'll have high hopes, high hopes

I will have high hopes, high hopes
I'll have high hopes, high hopes
