

My Home

Pixie Lott

If this world would disown me
And left me in the cold
You'd come and hold me
So I don't feel alone

If I were to look up to diamonds in the sky
You'd come and make sure that I would have a life

I'd have nothing, nothing
Without your loving, loving
I would be nothing, nothing
Without you

Whenever I smile, you are the reason
Whenever I cry, you dry my tears
Whenever I'm lost with nowhere to go
Baby you, you, you, you
You are my home
You are my home

If ever you were to be
A million miles away
You would come back to me
If I just called your name

And if I were to break down in the middle of the street
You'd come and save me, get me back up on my feet

You're really something, something
I need your loving, loving
I would be nothing, nothing

Whenever I smile, you are the reason
Whenever I cry, you dry my tears
Whenever I'm lost with nowhere to go
Baby you, you, you, you
You are my home
You are my home

I know you'll take care of my heart
So I don't have to worry
Everything you do for me
Just tells me that you love me

You're Heaven on earth
You're like Heaven on earth

Whenever I'm in your arms I know I'm home

Whenever I smile, you are the reason
Whenever I cry, you dry my tears (yeah)
Whenever I'm lost with nowhere to go
Baby you, you, you, you
You are my home
You are my home
You are my home
