

MAGA?

PJ Morton

I can't believe that we still gonna do that same sh-Sometimes it gets so bad I can't even handle it
If I see another black boy die at the hands of this
I don't know
I wanna lose control

But it can't last forever
Seasons change as does the weather
Things are bound to get better
As the days go by

Make America great again
I think they mean it was great for them
'Cause it wasn't so great for everyone back then
So weigh in

I can have all the money and the fame and they still don't care
'Cause if I get pulled over, I still gotta live in fear Martin said injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywher e
I hope we can give them

But nothing lasts forever
Seasons change as does the weather
Things are bound to get better
As the days go by

Make America great again
I think they mean it was great for them
'Cause it wasn't so great for everyone back then
So weigh in

You say America was at its greatest point in the 1950s? When we couldn't drink out your fountain, sit at your lunch counter, v ote in your elections? America is great, for who? Was America g reat for Emmett Till? For Terence Crutcher? How 'bout the four little girls of the Central Park Five, or the Emanuel Nine? Was America great for Rodney King? For Fernando Castillo? For Sand ra Bland or Pamela Turner? I don't even have the breath to say America is great. Eric Garner. Make America great again? Again when?