

Distant Skies

Place Vendome

I'm trying to ease my voice inside
To find some peace of mind
A man with a vision made his oath

Revolution is my name
Streets of fire and rage
My journey through my fears and sin
Freedom is my law
There's no second chance to give
There's one choice to set me free
This world of lies will fall apart
I'm rising like a thunder

Fight
Keep the flame alive and feed your dreams
Gnosis is the key for us to see

To new horizons, I'll take you there
No matter how far apart we were
Distant skies we'll reach tonight
Everything turns into new shapes of lights
No matter if we are ready or not
Just like seasons people change their skin

Just one reason, just one word
To wash away my thoughts
You told me father, why we are here
In this place that's not our home?
Useless eyes for blinded minds
They won't see, they won't believe
We can make it better
We can learn from yesterday

Fight
Keep the flame alive and feed your dreams
Gnosis is the key for us to see

To new horizons, I'll take you there
No matter how far apart we were
Distant skies we'll reach tonight
Everything turns into new shapes of lights
No matter if we are ready or not
Just like seasons people change their skin

Change my skin
Alone in the rain
Running away
The shadows hide my path
No matter if we are ready or not

To new horizons, I'll take you there
No matter how far apart we were
Distant skies we'll reach tonight
Everything turns into new shapes of lights
No matter if we are ready or not
Just like seasons people change their skin

They won't see, they won't believe
We can make it better
