

You put color into my life
Before you it was black and white
Dark in the corners, you bathe me in light
You're a rainbow in a gray and cloudy sky

Everything looked sepia, sepia
Before you came along and saturated me with love
Then I couldn't be happier, happier
Ever since you showed me how there's more to life
Than what I thought there was

And now I see, since you came along and saturated me with love
My mind is free, free letting positivity
You put color into my life
Now the future looks bright
When all hope is fading and I'm losing sight
You are a beacon of light

Everything looked sepia, sepia
Before you came along and saturated me with love
Then I couldn't be happier, happier
Ever since you showed me how there's more to life
Than what I thought there was

And now I see, since you came along and saturated me with love
My mind is free, free letting positivity

Your love, your love, your love has set me free
Your love, your love, your love has set me free
Your love, your love, your love has set me free
Your love, your love, your love has set me free

Everything looked sepia, sepia
Before you came along and saturated me with love
Then I couldn't be happier, happier
Ever since you showed me how there's so much more to life
Than what I thought there was

Everything looked sepia, sepia
Before you came along and saturated me with love
Then I couldn't be happier
Since you showed me how there's more to life
Than what I thought there was