

Wait So Long

Plan B

You've been living on the edge
So long that you've gone out your mind
Tryna think of things to say
Looks like you've run out of lines

I'm so deep inside your heart
You know you've taken this too far
I knew it from the start
You were gonna make it hard

You've got something you're tryna hide
Tell me something, what's a surprise
I see loving up in your eyes
I can see love

So why do you make me wait so long
So long for your love
Why do I have to wait so long
So long for your love
So long for your love

You keep telling me to wait
You say that's what you do to guys
But will you give me what I want
All what I can do is try

I see it in your face
I can tell it when you lie
No need to tell me straight
I can read between the lines

You've got something you're tryna hide
Tell me something, what's a surprise
I see loving up in your eyes
I can see love

So why do you make me wait so long
So long for your love (For you love)
Oh why do I have to wait so long
So long for your love

Oh, what is holding you
What is holding you up, oh no
And why do I have to wait so long
So long for your love
For your love
So long for your love

Holding on, holding on
To your pride, know you can let go
Dynamite, dynamite
You can take up all my sun
I'll be there, watching you
And waiting for your like before
Yes I'll be there, wanting you
No matter how long that is for

So why do you make me wait so long
So long for your love
Why do I have to wait so long
So long for your love

What keeps holding you
What keeps holding you up, oh no
Why do I have to wait so long
So long for your love
