

Another Sunrise

Planet Funk

Outside, you're looking at me
Broken glasses neon lights and daytime tv
Shout out as loud as you can
Broken dreams on billboards while you're faking a tan, you can
Smoke some, a happy parade
Through the mist I clinch a fist at five i'll get paid
Then your eyes shut but you get no sleep
Because you know you got them mouths to feed
Another sunrise will find us
Another sunrise and were fine
Another sunrise will find us
Another sunrise and were fine
Out tonight with sneakers and beers
The week is barely over and it all dissapears
And then I'm burning out
In hospital beds
Looking over shoulders I can see no regrets
Coz we got cigarettes, rock and roll
When memory is fading you know nothings for sure
With all the policies
And thought control
We're chasing things we can't enjoy
Another sunrise will find us
Another sunrise and were fine
Another sunrise will find us
Another sunrise and were fine
Another sunrise
Another sunrise
Another sunrise
Sunrise
Sunrise
Another sunrise
Another sunrise will find us
Another sunrise and were fine
Another sunrise will find us
Another sunrise and were fine
