Where are you? I catch myself searching for you
Every time you pass by, my heart skips a beat
I trace your words to find what they meant
But I never seem to find the answers

In these seasons on repeat
What stays unchanged is Something that's always been right by my side
Though I can't see it
It was always tying us together

I'm still searching
But I can't see you anywhere
The more I reach out, the further away you feel

By the time my voice reaches you
You'll already be gone again
Even after so many goodbyes

Still, it's you
Still, it's you
Still, it's you
I keep searching
Flowing where this heart leads are the memories
Could you be feeling the same?
You're always on my mind

Rap

"All hidden?" "Not yet"
The feelings we kept hiding, let it go
Things don't always stay the same
Before someone else finds out about you, yeah

In these familiar places
The footsteps we've left behind
Have always been leading back to you
Searching, was it this all along?
Have we finally realized it? (Ha)

I'm still following after you
Every little piece of you
Like solving a puzzle
By the time this voice reaches you
We'll meet again back where it all began
After so many hellos

Still, we go on
Still, we go on
Still, we go on
Like hide and seek
Those eyes tell a story
Turns out I was in it too
I won't let you go again
